

COOLIDGE WAS A GOOD POLITICIAN IN LOVE-MAKING

BY HERBERT CARYL.
(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 22.—According to Northampton "who knew" Calvin Coolidge, "the silent" wooed and won his beautiful and vivacious bride, Miss Grace Goodhue of Burlington, Vt., in fewer words than ever before used by a young Loch-invar.

Neither the governor nor Mrs. Coolidge ever took the trouble to affirm or deny the story. Mrs. Coolidge says "Cal" is "quite a ready talker when you sit down with him away from business." But his friends simply picture this man as an eloquent lover.

The fact remains that in the winter of 1917 Calvin Coolidge, now Republican nominee for vice-president, first met Grace Goodhue, "Cal" was practicing law in a little office in the Masonic building. He boarded at the home of Robert Wiers, superintendent of the Clark school for the deaf and dumb. Pretty Grace Goodhue, just graduated from the University of Vermont, was teacher at the school. She lived close to the home of Wiers, where Calvin Coolidge boarded. Mrs. Wiers invited the young teacher in for tea.

The inevitable happened. "Cal" and Grace fell in love. There's many a story of how Grace Goodhue found Calvin Coolidge, the silent lawyer, quiet, but in comparison with her deaf and dumb pupils.

The Coolidges are a study in opposites. Mrs. Coolidge is a good mixer. She is at home anywhere. She loves to dance, play cards and go to the theater. Gov. Coolidge is of the serious type. He is bored with card playing. He is not a ready mixer. And he never danced but twice in his life—at the Amherst senior prom. Mr. Coolidge loves skating. "Cal" in his wooing days, tried it, but failed miserably.

At the University of Vermont Grace Goodhue won many friends, as she did in later life. She was a member of the University Glee club, was elected to Phi Beta Phi and took part in college plays—Shakespearean roles were her favorites. While in college she became interested in the study of deaf mutes and was taking her first practical training in the work when she met Coolidge.

Calvin Coolidge and Grace Goodhue were married at her home in Burlington, Vt. They went to Montreal on their honeymoon. Returning to make their home in Northampton, Calvin Coolidge suffered his first political defeat—the only one of his career—that for school committee of Northampton.

After a few weeks in a rented furnished home, the Coolidges went to live in the double house they now occupy. Visit the house any day. There's a card in the window. A boy's baseball bat and glove lie on the front porch. It is the home of an everyday American. Mrs. Coolidge answers the telephone and the doorbell at $32 a month. Their phone is on a party line.

Mrs. Coolidge's life is centered about her two sons. She is the daughter of a hard-working steamboat inspector on Lake Champlain. However, she enjoys society and attends many social functions with the governor.

BOY PREDICTED HIS DEATH TO MOTHER
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 22. (By International News Service.)—Frederick Henn, 11-year-old school boy, told his mother he was "going to die" the other day, and made good his word.

"It'll be a corpse soon," young Henn told his mother upon his return from school. A few minutes later he was seized with convulsions and death soon followed.

There was no evidence that the boy took poison, but the physician was sent to Kansas City for examination.

JAP POPULATION GAIN "MENACE," COLBY TOLD
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 22.—The influx of Japanese into California has brought about "alarming" conditions and it has become necessary to protect the sovereignty of the state against this "growing menace," through diplomatic negotiation or a strict exclusion act, Gov. William D. Stephens said in a letter addressed to Secretary of State Colby.

Gov. Stephens expressed the hope that the initiative measure now being projected in the state to deny Asiatics the right to all land purchases or leaseholds would be adopted by the electorate by an overwhelming majority. While California harbors no animosity against the Japanese people, he said, the state does not wish them to settle within her borders and to develop a Japanese population in her midst. He asks that immediate negotiations be entered into with the empire of Japan to make impossible any further "evasions" of existing immigration agreements and to make such agreements as rigorous as possible.

Davis ruled for the defense. The judge said there was no law under which he could decide for the plaintiff.
